The only exceptions being Guy Fawkes, New Year, Chinese New Year and Diwali. If there is no dispensational license for your Event and you are not assembled and ready for the Company to fire and conclude your display by 23:00, the Company will not be able to fire your show and no refund will be made.
- 9.2 The very nature of fireworks means the Company cannot precisely guarantee burn-time; therefore, the display duration is a guide.
- 9.3 The Company reserves the right to substitute any products depending upon stock levels and site safety at the discretion of the Company.
- 9.4 Professional firework displays are normally electronically fired and computer controlled. When a show, or part of a show, is hand fired for whatever reason, there may a short pause between fireworks to allow the operator to safely ignite the next firework.

(Revision 3.0)

- 9.9 In the event of adverse weather conditions, such as high winds, the Company may fire a handful of test products to verify wind direction and speed. This process will help advise of any late changes that may be required to the firing position, audience position or any products that may need to be removed from the show in the interests of safety. No financial penalty will be applied to the Company under these circumstances.
- 9.10 It is the Client's responsibility to seek permission from the owner(s) of the property where the display is taking place. The Client is to advise the Company of any issues regards permissions. The Company will coordinate the details of the display with the property owner(s) as required.
- 9.11 The final decision on whether a display is safe to fire, or whether part or all of the display needs to be withdrawn on the grounds of safety, prior to or during the display, rests solely with the Company. Reasons for this include, but are not limited to; breach of safety distances, non-compliance with necessary road closures or unexpected high winds carrying debris towards the crowd. This will only be applied where there is a real risk to crew, public or property as a result of the display. No financial penalty will be applied to the Company under these circumstances.
- 9.12 It is the Client's responsibility to ensure that there is no unruly or antisocial behaviour from the public that would put the fireworks display, personnel or property at risk. The Company will work with the Client to manage any behavior that could jeopardise the display on the night.
- 9.13 The Client is responsible for ensuring that there are no parked cars or other obstructions situated within the allocated fall out zone for the duration of the fireworks display. The Client may wish to erect signage or arrange for stewards to enforce this where necessary. If the Company cannot fire the show safely due to closely parked vehicles or other damageable items, the Company may need to remove some or all of the product from the show depending upon the circumstances and no refund will be given. The Company will work with The Client to clear any obstructions on the night.
- 9.14 All roads and pavements within the allocated fall out zones must remain closed for the duration of the show and until the Company have declared the area safe. Where appropriate, stewarding must remain in place to ensure security if in a public place, or a location which can be accessed easily by the public. Path and road closures may require advanced notice be given to the public and this is the responsibility of the Client. The Company can assist with this process where required.
- 9.15 The Client or the Client's Team should be on hand at the Event site (where appropriate) to advise the Company of any decisions that relates to the display dynamic, firing time and Event safety. The Company cannot be held responsible for an issue arising if the Company has not been informed of any Event changes or circumstances that affect the firing of the display.
- 9.16 If the Company does not fire on time due to a delay in the firing cue from the Client (or Client's Team), or due to an issue arising from an unclear cue, the Company cannot be held responsible and no financial penalty will be applied. For clarity and the avoidance of doubt, a sensible cue should have a lead in ("fireworks stand by") and either a countdown to 'fire' or a simple cue such as 'fireworks go, fireworks go'. Cues should be agreed in advance. Radio communication should be restricted to production and the Company to prevent confusion or open channels, which can prevent communication.
- 9.17 At the time of firing, the Company will review the firing site and safety zones. The display will only be fired when the site is considered safe.
- 9.18 Where applicable, the Client should inform the Company of who it is on the day that will be giving the Company the cue to fire. In the event of the Company not being informed of the person responsible for giving the cue, the Company will seek this information upon arrival at the site. It is the Client's responsibility to ensure that the Company know who it is that is authorised to give the cue, otherwise the Company cannot be held responsible for firing under instruction.
- 9.19 If the Company are late in firing or unable to fire some or all of the fireworks due to the following reasons, no financial penalty will be applied:

- 9.24 Due to the design and function of fireworks, cardboard debris will be emitted. Conditions such as wind, rain or snow can hinder the clear up operation. The Company will work hard to leave the site tidy as far as is practically possible, but some debris may remain.

10.0 Lance Work

- 10.1 Lance work is a static set piece that is elevated above the ground on large stands. It generally burns for up to 60 seconds. The very nature of fireworks means the Company cannot precisely guarantee burn-time; therefore, the duration is a guide.
- 10.2 On occasion, especially if there is dampness in the air, some lances may not ignite. This is a rare occurrence and is beyond our control.
- 10.3 Due to the nature of lance work, it cannot be tested prior to setting up on site. Each piece of lance work is bespoke and built to order, so the exact effect or colour cannot be guaranteed. The lance work will be constructed to the most stringent design requirements and checked prior to leaving our premises.
- 10.4 Smoke is produced as part of the effect as the individual lances burn. On a still night, the smoke will rise vertically. Where there is a wind, the smoke will get carried in the direction of the wind. Wherever possible, the Company will set up the lance work to ensure that any smoke will pass backwards through the frame and away from the audience. On some occasions, this type of placement may not be possible due to site placement restrictions.

11.0 Pyrotechnic, Flame and FX Services

- 11.1 The very nature of pyrotechnics means the Company cannot precisely guarantee burn-time. Quoted pyrotechnic durations is a guide.
- 11.2 If operating indoors, the venue should isolate the room from the alarm system for the duration of the effect plus 10 minutes, or until any smoke haze has lifted. The Client should contact the venue to confirm that they will isolate the alarm. The Company will also liaise with the venue on our Client's behalf in advance of the Event to ensure all necessary details are communicated.
- 11.3 The Company will take care to ensure that persons and property are not put at risk. This may necessitate in the removal of effects on the day.

- 11.5 Where appropriate, the Client should provide the Company with a stage plan and contact details for other service providers to assist us with our Event planning, risk assessment and method of safe working.
- 11.6 The Client needs to have sought permission from the venue for the Event and advised the Company of any issues regards permissions. The Company will coordinate the details of the show with the venue and their safety team as required.
- 11.7 The Company will carry out a risk assessment and site review ahead of the Event where required. The Company use this assessment to create the set piece, entailing products that are considered safe for the site and venue parameters. Site and venue parameters may exclude the use of certain products.
- 11.8 In the event of adverse weather conditions (such as a strong wind on an outdoor stage or concert arena), the Company may decide to remove certain products from the show. This will only be done where there is a risk of injury to personnel or damage to property as a result of the pyrotechnics. The final decision on whether the pyrotechnics or FX are safe to fire, or whether part or all of the pyrotechnics or FX need to be withdrawn on the grounds of safety rests solely with the Company at the time of the show. No refund will be given.
- 11.9 If there is an unexpected issue with the firing location(s) upon arrival at the Event (such as an alternative stage layout or room configuration) that could be perceived to put personnel or property at risk, the Company may need to alter the effect or relocate the firing location(s) in the interests of safety and enjoyment. In these circumstances, if required, the Company may need to remove certain products from the show to suit the alternative firing location(s), or remove all products from the show if an alternative location(s) cannot be found. The Client is responsible for ensuring that there are no obstructions or fire risk items situated within the allocated safety zone for the duration of the pyrotechnics. If the Company cannot fire the show safely due to unexpected obstructions or other damageable items, then no refund will be given. The Company will work with our Clients to clear any obstructions on site on the day wherever possible.
- 11.10 Specific Note 1: For fountains within a venue, unless stated otherwise, the effects that the Company use will require at least 1m safety distance to objects (such as tables and chairs) and 2m from the public. If the effect is being fired as the public is seated, it may be necessary to have one or two tables moved to the side and the public standing momentarily until the effect is fired. The Client is responsible for coordinating this with the venue. The Company will assist with the coordination of this in advance and on the day of the Event where required.
- 11.11 Specific Note 2: For table top fountains, when installed into flower arrangements the Company may need to make alterations to the flowers where it is considered to be necessary in order to secure and deliver the effect safely. The effect and space requirements within the flower arrangement will be coordinated with the florist in advance to minimise the requirement for any alterations on the day.
- 11.12 It is the Client's responsibility to ensure that there is no unruly or antisocial behavior from the public or performing members on stage that would put the pyrotechnics display, personnel or property at risk. In the very unlikely event that the show is considered unsafe due to unruly behavior, the Company may not fire part or all of the show in the interests of safety and no refund will be given. Where possible, the Company will work with our Clients and try and control any behavior issues that could jeopardise the show.

The Client is responsible for the safety and wellbeing of the public, especially young children, who should be supervised at all times around these products.
- 13.2 If there is any perceived risk to personnel or to property due to unruly or irresponsible behaviour from the public, the Company will extinguish the fire pits in the interests of safety and no refund will be given.
- 13.3 Only approved sources of fuel, such as logs and coal are permitted to be used on the fire pits. No member of the public is to be permitted to add fuel or place any items on the fire pits to prevent unpleasant or toxic fumes, such as that produced from burning plastics.
- 13.4 The fire pits must be lit at least 40 minutes prior to the required time. This is to ensure that they are burning brightly.

14.0 Confetti

- 14.1 The confetti the Company uses is dye fast and fire retardant. Non-metallic confetti is also biodegradable.
- 14.2 It is the Clients responsibility to seek permission from the Venue for the use of confetti. The Company will not be liable for any clear up charges associated with the use of confetti at the Venue.
- 14.3 Unless otherwise agreed with the Client, the venue will need to supply a 240v power source (internal socket if indoors, internal socket with extension cable if outdoors or a generator output if outdoors) to operate our confetti cannon units where required.
- 14.4 There may be cables as part of the set up. The Company will work as neatly as possible but on most occasions these cables will be visible.
- 14.5 When operating outdoors, the Client should be aware that wind and rain could have a significant effect on the direction and speed of fall of the confetti. For example, the effect may not last as long when there are gusting winds. The Company will do their best to ensure that the effect is as good as possible, taking factors such as wind into account when setting up the confetti cannon units.
- 14.6 If no colour or effect of confetti is specified, the Company will choose a colour of confetti at the discretion of the Company.
- 14.7 The clear up of the confetti after the effect has been launched is not part of our normal service. Should this service be required, whilst the Company will do their best as far as is practically possible to clear the confetti, the Client needs to acknowledge that it may not be possible to collect every single piece of confetti.
- 14.8 If space restrictions or issues associated with safety on the day do not allow us to set up the confetti cannons at the agreed location, (such as table layout within the room or band Equipment on stage) the Company will set up the cannons at an alternative location that is safe to fire. The Company also reserve the right to alter the effect on grounds of health and safety

The Company may, but shall not be obliged to, take such steps as it shall in its discretion consider reasonable to obtain reimbursement of any such costs and expenses and shall, subject to deduction of costs incurred in connection therewith, reimburse any sums so recovered to the Client.
- 16.2 Except in respect of death or personal injury caused by the Company's negligence, the Company shall not by reason of any representation, implied warranty, condition or other term, or any duty at common law or under the terms of the Agreement, be liable for any loss of profit or any indirect, special or consequential loss, damage, costs, expenses or other claims (whether caused by the Company's servants or agents or otherwise) in connection with the performance of obligations arising under the Agreement or with the use by the Client of the Event Management Services supplied in connection with the Event.
- 16.3 The Client shall indemnify the Company against all damages, costs, claims and expenses incurred by it arising from loss or damage to any Equipment (including that of third parties) caused by the Client or its agents or employees or the public.
- 16.4 The Company shall not be liable to the Client or be deemed to be in breach of the Agreement by reason of any delay in performing, or any failure to perform, any of the Company's obligations if the delay or failure was due to any cause beyond the Company's reasonable control.
- 16.5 If Electrical generators or additional power supplies are required and if the Client does not avail itself of the opportunity of the Company providing an emergency supply (where this is available) the Company shall accept no responsibility for loss or damage howsoever caused as a result of any failure in the primary supply.
